

Achieve EUDR Compliance with SCS Global Services

The European Union (EU) Regulation on Deforestation-Free Products (EUDR), in effect since June 29, 2023, aims to prevent the import and export of products linked to deforestation and forest degradation. It requires companies in Europe to ensure that their products are deforestation-free and legally produced.

As a result, any company that places the following commodities (and their derived products) in the EU market must conform to the regulation by December 30, 2026:

Wood

Beef

Cocoa

Coffee

Palm Oil

Soy

Rubber

Products placed on the market before the regulation applies are not required to comply with the EUDR. However, companies must prove that these products were placed on the market before the relevant dates.

With 40 years of experience with responsible forestry certifications, SCS Global Services has closely followed the development of EUDR by technically reviewing all official publications and actively participating in events and forums to convert the information into actionable steps for our customers.

We have developed support services that complement existing certification schemes impacted by the EUDR and support clients who are not certified to a scheme. We are working to empower clients in achieving EUDR compliance.
